

Dr. Stephan Kohns
Deputy Director General Economics

Stephan Kohns is the Deputy Director General Economics of the Deutsche Bundesbank. He is also the Bundesbank's representative at the biannual meetings of the OECD's Economic Policy Committee. Before assuming his current position in 2013, he was head of the staff unit "Interdivisional Tasks and Speeches" in the DG Economics. Prior to joining the Bundesbank in June 2009, he headed the staff unit "Economic Analysis" at Robert Bosch GmbH, Gerlingen, (2008-2009) and worked at the staff of the German Council of Economic Experts as Secretary General (2005-2008) and as staff economist for labour market issues (2002-2005). From 1993 on, he studied Economics at the University at the University of Bonn, where he acquired his diploma in 1997 and received his doctorate in 2002.