

International Cash Conference on “Cash and the future of money”

Deutsche Bundesbank
12 to 14 September 2023

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Deutsche Bundesbank’s Directorate General Cash Management will host its sixth Cash Conference in Bad Homburg, Germany from 12 to 14 September 2023.

We invite experts – from academia, public authorities (including central banks), special interest groups and the private sector – to discuss and exchange views on cash-related subjects. Our aim is to achieve an improved understanding of cash payments based on recent academic research in general and, more specifically, to help identify possible developments and dynamics that will shape the future cash payments landscape and examine what role cash is going to play in it.

Conference content

Papers covering the following subjects are highly welcome:

- cash demand
- acceptance of cash
- access to cash
- future of cash

Papers on related areas, such as

- cash use today and in the future;
- studies on the role of cash in developed and emerging economies;
- costs and benefits of cash and cashless payment instruments;
- survey-based studies on payment behaviour (cash/non-cash);
- topical issues (e.g. digital base money; issuance of new banknote series; etc.)

may also be submitted and will be considered.

Submission of papers/abstracts

The deadline for submitting abstracts (and preferably the papers) is 31 March 2023. Only abstracts/papers sent in as electronic documents will be considered. All abstracts/papers filed in due time will be reviewed by the conference committee and authors will be informed in April 2023 regarding their acceptance.

Content of abstracts

Abstracts should not exceed 300 words in length. In addition we request the following information:

- title of paper ;
- title(s), first and further names, family name of all authors;
- affiliation (institution) and current position;
- postal and email address;
- three keywords (or JEL Index Numbers) that best describe the subject of your submission.

Conference contact for registration

Please send an abstract, or preferably, the entire paper as a separate pdf file by email to
